

CONAN - Across the Thunder River

OCCASION / Anglais

Marque : Mongoose

Référence : AB989

Prix : 35.00 €

Descriptif :

Etat : Très bon -

Dark and mysterious, lurking in dim forests and dank swamps, the Picts of the Hyborian Age are a primal force that will ultimately unleash its collective rage against civilisation and bring the whole of Hyboria down in flames and savage devastation.

This book is intended to give Games Masters the resources to bring these terrible adversaries to life and break their misconception as idiotic savages who whoop and jump around a lot, flinging arrows and tomahawks at people. Picts are dangerous. For those who intend to play characters in the wild Westermarck, take a word of advice – beware. The Picts are out there, and they will hurt you if they find you. Although this advice will be largely ignored, perhaps it would be best if players refrain from reading the chapters about the Picts, remaining safe and sound within the chapters of the Westermarck. The fun part of reading about or playing against the Picts is their dark mystery. Let the Games Master reveal the world of the Picts for their players, learning about these savage people as they go.

Lien vers la fiche du produit