Barbarians of Hârn: The deep forests of Hârn are home to eighteen tribal nations. The homeland of each nation is indicated on the Tribal Nations map.

Although civilized Hârnians look down on them as backward, most tribesmen have more freedom and leisure time than manorial peasants. However, much of that spare time must be spent sharpening spears and fletching arrows because the tribal wilderness is a more dangerous place than the manor.

Barbarians is an overview of tribal culture, economics, and religion. A guide to HârnMaster character generation for tribal characters is also included.

Tribal Nations: A separate 4-6 page article for each of the eighteen tribal nations. Each article includes a tribal map, occupations, weapons and armour data, history, culture, and specific shaman rituals.
