There's nothing more frustrating for a Storyteller than having to find that one rule during a game and not being able to find it. Well, maybe needing to use a Discipline and not having enough blood. However, now everything you need is in one place.

All You Need at Your Fingertips

White Wolf introduces this useful reference tool for Storytellers. The screen is made from the same durable stock as their hardcovers, with the same thickness, and displays all the necessary rules and charts for easy reference during game sessions.
